

Scrum - Pillars

Transparency

Scrum promotes transparency as it requires significant aspects of the process to be visible to those responsible for the outcome.

Inspection

Inspect progress towards project goal, problem areas, and deviations from plan.

Adaptation

If an inspector determines that one or more aspects of a process deviate outside acceptable limits, and that the resulting product will be unacceptable, the process or the material being processed must be adjusted.

Scrum - Values

The 5 scrum values are the decision making framework in the Scrum. During the course of a Scrum project, the team needs to make sure that the decisions are in line with the values of the Scrum. They are abbreviated as C-FORC.
